RETURNED FROM CUTING—Mrs. Stella Corse returned yesterday from Salt Lake, where she spent the summer. She will resume her position as society editor of the Gazette.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS—The regular monthly meeting of the board of governors of the water users' association will be held on Monday. This will be the first assembling after the vacation season and it is hoped there will be a good attendance as a number of important matters are to be discussed.

ON THE MOVE—There is always something happening to George Hamilton and that is the reason probably that life runs along so gaily, for most people like novelty. Yesterday it was his horses, a gray one and a brown one. In some way they got the gate open in his corral at 1139 East Monroe street about 5 o'clock last evening, kicked up their heels and sped away in the direction of Tempe in a way that made the owner doubtful whether they intend to ever come back.

FINE PRICES SECURED—C. E. Steward's sale of livestock on Thursday at his place near Alhambra was a notable one in respect of the prices brought. Mr. Steward getting more than a thousand dollars in excess of what he had expected before the sale. The facts reflect credit on the auctioneer, C. O. McMurtry, and also demonstrate that it pays to have good stuff to sell at auction as well as privately. Seventy heads of dairy cows were sold. Three of them brought $100 each and fifty head in the lot averaged $70. The rest of them averaged $55. Some of the horses sold as high as $225.

BUTCHERKNIFE PERSUASION—Word was brought to Constable Murphy yesterday afternoon that murder was contemplated in the vicinity of Twelfth and Cleveland streets. Victorino Cervantes was chasing his wife around with a butcherknife of large proportions to induce her to return to his domicile. The woman had taken refuge in the house of a neighbor and Cervantes had left the scene forgetting his hat. The constable went down and found the bareheaded husband a couple of blocks away from the scene of intended bloodshed. He had mislaid the knife.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH—Walter E. Frazer of Kentucky, Bible school evangelist of that state, is visiting friends in Phoenix and will speak at the Christian church Sunday morning during the Bible school hour and in the evening at the regular church service at 8 o'clock. Mr. Frazer is one of America's great Bible school men. His theme will be, "The Bible School," both morning and evening. E. N. Phillips, pastor of the church, will be present in the morning and speak at 11 o'clock. Everybody invited to be present. Don't fail to be at all services.

TANNER CHAPEL, A. M. E. CHURCH—Corner Second and Jefferson streets. Sunday services: 9:45, Sabbath school, Miss Ardmore Lewis superintendent; 11, preaching by pastor, subject "The Passover Greatly Coveted." The sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered at this service; 12 m., general class; 7:30 p. m., preaching by the pastor, subject "Life's Race and How to Run It." You will be made welcome at any of these services. Rev. Franklin Bray, pastor; residence, 113 South Second street. Phone 2860.

INDIAN WAS INTOXICATED—Walter Gelashin, a young Ojibwa Indian, was arrested early yesterday morning by Officer Steinbrook, who found the young brave cutting up all sorts of antics at a downtown rooming house. Gelashin said he had arrived here the night before from Oklahoma, and was to enter the Phoenix Indian school. He was in company with two other young men of his tribe, and yesterday afternoon he was turned loose, the authorities at the school promising to look after him. Two other companions who started out with the trio for Phoenix fell by the wayside, and haven't been heard from since.

SUIT OVER RIGHT OF WAY—Ella McMillon and R. H. McMillon have brought suit in the district court against the Arizona Eastern railroad to recover a strip of ground occupied by the Phoenix & Buckeye railroad and also to recover $1000 damages for the time the plaintiffs have been kept out of the use of it. The plaintiffs had executed a deed to the Phoenix & Buckeye for the strip, for no other consideration than that the road should be in running order by July 2 of this year. The deed was later assigned to the defendant road. The suit is based on the fact that the road was not completed at the date stipulated in the deed.

HE LIFTED A RIFLE—William Alberts, a car thief from the Southern Pacific, was tried before Justice Johnson yesterday for stealing a rifle from a baggage car, was convicted and will be sentenced today. Alberts was arrested the night before by Constable Murphy on the complaint of G. A. Stoddard, the owner of the gun, who had shipped it from Mexico. The theft was committed some weeks ago, but it was only recently learned that the rifle was in the possession of Alberts. He claimed that he had bought it from a Mexican. He was painfully surprised at the trial by the testimony of a witness, who saw him carrying it away from the car.

AND THE MOTOR STOPPED—Dr. H. O. Ramsey had a call yesterday morning which took him three or four miles north of Glendale. The doctor went over in his auto, and neglected to take a good supply of oil along with him. While three miles out of Glendale something happened which indicated that oil was needed in some vital part of the machine. The doctor thought to make Glendale, where he could secure a new supply of the needful fluid. He continued on his way for a short distance, when one of the engine's cylinders blew out, and it was all off. The doctor was obliged to tramp into Glendale, where he secured another machine, to tow his disabled machine in. Dr. Ramsey will proceed to lay in an elaborate supply of oil today.

DR. NORTON HOME—Dr. J. C. Norton returned home yesterday from Texas, where he went a week ago as a witness in a case brought against a southern Arizona settler by the federal authorities for shipping a cow through the state alleged to be suffering of tuberculosis. When the facts were all made known, the case was promptly dismissed, the defendant was released and came home rejoicing. Mrs. Norton and children are expected home from the coast this morning.
